CASA EMILIANA
Winery

Casa Emiliana is a charming, family-run boutique winery nestled in the heart of the Valle de Guadalupe, known for its warm hospitality, scenic vineyard views, and handcrafted wines that reflect the character of the Baja California terroir. As a smaller estate, it offers a more personal and relaxed tasting experience compared to larger wineries in the region, making visitors feel truly welcomed and at ease.

The winery focuses on artisanally produced wines, often showcasing varietals such as Syrah and Nebbiolo, both as blends and single-varietal expressions. Their wines are typically made with careful attention to detail, resulting in bottles that offer balanced aromas and flavors—ranging from rich dark fruits and spice to softer, elegant profiles suited for pairing with local cuisine.

In addition to wine tasting, the property often incorporates its peaceful surroundings into memorable visits, where guests can enjoy slower afternoons among the vines, learn about local viticulture, and savor wines that embody the spirit of Baja California's emerging wine culture.
