

CASTA DE VINOS

Winery

We are a family-owned winery of Mexican origin, committed to our land and our community.

The passion and interest for wine gave birth to the life project that is Casta de Vinos winery. In 2010, they had their first harvest, with five tons being the first to be vinified: two tons of Cabernet Sauvignon, two of Syrah, and one of Mourvedre.

It is considered a family winery or under the concept of estate wines, producing around 50,000 bottles per year, with a constant focus on quality rather than quantity. Its distribution network is limited, and high-consumption centers are not part of its strategy, concentrating efforts on a few select distributors. Each wine from the winery tells a story, which makes them unique from one another. The goal is to reach a maximum of 72,000 bottles, as it is considered a number that still allows control over every step of the process. The second generation of the family will soon be involved, and with it, new philosophies and strategies are sure to come.
